Structured products proposition wins Best Performance Benelux award

Amsterdam/'s-Hertogenbosch, the Netherlands, 18 April 2024

Van Lanschot Kempen has won the prestigious Best Performance Benelux award for its structured products proposition. During the annual Structured Product Awards, part of the SRP Europe 2024 Conference in London, Van Lanschot Kempen was honored with two awards. In addition to the Best Performance Benelux award, the award for Best Distributor NL was prolonged.

The SRP Structured Products Awards are the most prestigious prizes within the industry and have been established to review the best-performing products and distributors of structured products in Europe. The results are determined based on the volumes of structured products sold and a vote among active producers, distributors, and service providers from different regions.

Marcel Pronk, Director Treasury Sales - Structured Products & FX at Van Lanschot Kempen: "The Treasury - Structured Products team at Van Lanschot Kempen has had a successful year. Volumes in new products were higher than in 2022, a positive trend that we have seen not only in the Netherlands but also in our second home market, Belgium. We are proud to win the Best Performance Benelux award. This is recognition of the stable returns of our products in the past period and demonstrates the added value for our clients of using structured products in a well-diversified investment portfolio."
